SOCIAL REPORT

Comedy Night - Saturday 23rd January 2010

OCC's first event of 2010 was a night out at a comedy club in central London, which proved to be a great success.

The 3 comedians and MC were all a hit, with the first and last being most people's favourites. They even all received more than 7 on the Frank comedy rating scale (2s and 3s are normal). Following the comedy, some members of our party stayed on and danced the night away until the early hours at the aftershow nightclub.

It was great to have a wide range of people come. All the senior men's teams were represented along with social members, life members, other halves and friends. It was also a good introduction to the club's social side for a new member, Peter Shaw, whom some of you may have met at nets.

The event had suffered a minor hitch the day before when the comedy club's promoters informed us that the gig we'd booked had been cancelled due to technical difficulties with the venue. Fortunately, they were able to offer us seats at an alternative gig and we managed to contact everyone to let them know about the venue change.

The lack of pints and real ale at the new venue was tempered by the fact that we arrived during half-price Happy Hour and got a half-price drink after the show as part of the deal, discount drinks are always popular with OCC members.

The consensus was that £12.50 was a steal for a fabulous night's entertainment.

Thanks to everyone who attended. We ask that you spread the word that OCC social events are first and foremost about having a good time. The event also raised around £50 for the club.
